FROM THE DIRECTORS CHAIR

Welcome to a new school year. You will find news and notes about people and programs in the IM News, hopefully items of interest. The three topics brought to your attention in the following paragraphs may be of importance to individuals now in the degree program as well as those who are involved with certificate programs, and, then too, those engaged in school audiovisual, library, or instructional materials center activities.

In an effort to clarify the status of the requirement for the course, Research Methods or Introduction to Research in the Department of Library and Audiovisual Education, beginning Winter Quarter, 1971, only fifteen (15) hours completed before IM 608 (Research Methods) or its equivalent will count toward a degree program in Information Media. The student is expected to have completed IM 608 or its equivalent or be enrolled in IM 608 before he will be admitted to candidacy.

We trust that each of you are fully aware of the fact that the Assistant Commissioner of Education for Curriculum, State Department of Education, appointed a task force to study and submit recommendations for Minnesota certification relative to the Joint Standards for School Media Programs. These recommendations have been prepared and submitted to the State Department of Education for approval by the State Board of Education.
