Study at the gaard?

- pretrip projection of time delegation

When preparing for my crossing to Denmark, I neglected to heed the warnings of the pretrip Literature regarding academics. I understood that to encourage some sort of study mindness at the "STUDY CENTER IN DENMARK" it would be necessary to bestow a degree of academic integrity on the program before departure.

- THE DECEPTIONS -

C. Academics

1. Attendance policy is enforced.
2. Classes are intensified so don't expect a sluff year.
3. Classes relating to Denmark are interesting.
4. Danish language is good but you must make the effort to learn it and use it.
5. Independent studies are nice but you must be disciplined and motivated. Information can be difficult to obtain. Contact former instructors on the program for information about getting an independent study arranged.
6. Good places to study: downtown library, hospital.
7. Transition of teachers from quarter to quarter can be difficult so be flexible and open-minded when they arrive. Learn to work with the teachers, not against them.
8. Bring your own orientation information, St. Cloud State Bulletin, and career information because it is hard to get while over there.
9. Don't buy the books for classes you are not sure you are going to take because you are responsible for getting your books home. Chances are you would decide not to take that class anyway because there will be other things you will want to do in Aalborg.

THE UNVARNISHED FACTS ON ACADEMICS:

1. IT'S HARD TO BLOW OFF MORE THAN A WEEK OF SCHOOL, AT A TIME.
2. MOST CLASSES ARE SLUFF.
3. MOST EVERYBODY SPEAKS ENGLISH, THEREFORE IT'S QUITE HARD TO PRACTICE DANISH.
4. IF YOU'RE A GOOD BULLSHITTER, INDEPENDANT STUDIES SHOULD BE QUITE EASY.
5. IF YOU MUST STUDY, DO IT WITH LOUD MUSIC AND AN ELEPHANT.
6. NEW TEACHERS ARE QUITE GULLIBLE FOR THE FIRST COUPLE OF WEEKS.

* I submit this in jest, disrespect is meant toward no one. E.S.P.

As soon as we got off our double-decker bus members of the Danish American Club were there to greet us. Throughout the year, get-togethers with the Jr. D-A Club were held. We had a party at a Danish Disco and some at Ungdomsgården. Some close friendships were formed between us and the Danes in the club. We're glad they were a part of our Danish experience.

A Crisis of Confidence

Tips the Balance

WHO DONE IT?

A PICTURE OF THE GUILTY AND THE INNOCENT
SHORTLY BEFORE THE CRIME TOOK PLACE.

T'was the night before Christmas break, and all through the hostel not a creature was stirring- or were they????

Not long ago, on that dark fateful night, a small crime of sorts took place in a room now known as 01. It was the trip to Bilka that the unsepecting victims were decived by a trusted friend. (Or were they?) While all the people home that night are all sworn to secrecy. They tipped the beds and flipped the walls. One participant can be quoted as saying, "We have been paid to do this, our source remains unknown." Enter the Schwallers, Out of town? A good cover, but it isnt good enough. Besides Tony has reason for revenge, after the balloon incident. Julie and Neil- Where were they? In and out, up and down? But Neil is all smiles, and Julie never lies- Does she? I believe there was speculation that a guy named Brian was in, but like the Schwallers, he was out- or was he? Homestay for dinner is a good cover. Whatever the case may be, there is proof of more than one or two or three. But because of confidentiality we are all free.

If you havent figured this out, this should help. Fiction or Fact it's up to you. But what is written here I know is true, and the names haven't been changed to protect the inöcent. So stop and think, and turn the tables if you dare so the next one won't be on YOU!

CHANGE IS COOL

My hand falls to the cold touch of the snowman's freeze.

The change in my eyes grows to see the bright sun that feeds my Love for you.

The heat of your touch burns my back
As I walk away from your velvet touch
Only to be cut by my own hand as it reaches for another.

I walk away not headed anywhere

But somehow I know I'll get there.

When my heart is content and my mind is free

I know I am where I want to be.

When I'm back from where I am

I'll have my life in order again

I'll know in my mind I have changed and hope my peers are not blind

I'm free to roam and free from life's miseries

Is that all I want to be?

Is to see my mind

to feel the crime from time to time to Look and Love or Love to Look

The sun has blinded my eyes to see the light that you once were to me
My soul now flies too high to reach back for your slow wings

The progress of my mind

it can be so unkind for your time!

away with you and the world

it's time to fly!

Make my wings curl

I leave behind my love and thoughts

I must move on

Give the universe a second shot

BRIGHTER BEYOND...

We left our home to a brighter beyond. Choose to follow our minds dreamy conception of what we really are. A new path to follow and new adventures to achieve. Living with others and growing from the increasing glow of brightness that clouds our vision. The mass will depart only to find a circular path and reunite to achieve amongst its self a greater understanding in a world of child like voyagers. Follow the ever increasing beat that pounds, vibrating your mind to a blurring brightness of what the actual meaning of life is to create an even brighter beyond.....

Now we have been there.
We are the ones who have walked those streets the philosophers once did.

Climbed the mountains
that have stood forever.
We've seen the Eiffel, the Collosium, the Acropolis,
the wall, even got drunk
at the octoberfest with people from all over the world.

And been the ones to visit
the country of our political enemy.
We've seen the places we've heard of for so long and seen that people are people no matter where they're from.

But perhaps it's more than the sites we have visited But what we have learned of ourselves, others, and our country.
Seen the power our country has and looked through the eyes of others - maybe became a little less American at moments? - Closer to Denmark, our home for six months.

Sometimes it looks as if we have changed so much
- we aren't what we were or perhaps we just became more ourselves?

SOME THOUGHTS

Old friends and new I'll always remember you.

From me to you

Remember this...

now the earth falls far below
I can barely see it's sun bright glow.
The further away it gets from me
the closer I am to who I want to be!

and to you
can you see me
well you
let me be free and me.
