April 14, 1926.

Dear Claude:

I have written to Alvah Eastman that it would not be fair to Earl Blackman with his vacation of only thirteen days to tie him down to any definite date in St. Cloud, though I know that if there happens to be anything doing while he is there he would be delighted to give you a speech. *

Look! We'll probably land in St. Cloud the 20th or 21st. If you could possibly get away for three or four or more days why don't you try to motor north with Earl and myself and we might see some lake country that would be new to you. If you would like to do this, and can, just plan for it and we will talk it over when I get there.

Ever,
