File No. P-86

Samuel Beidleman was born in Chemung, New York, on January 1, 1830. He came to Sauk Centre in 1866 and built a home on "Kellar Hill" in the southern part of town.

Samuel Beidleman was a bricklayer by trade and built many of the first brick buildings in Sauk Centre, notably the Bruce Block.

Samuel Beidleman owned a double brick building on Main Street and a brick store on third street and another building at the corner of fourth and Main streets. He also owned two valuable farms in this vicinity.

In the early days of Sauk Centre he showed many kindnesses to the settlers here, often visiting the sick, sitting up with them nights and so forth. Samuel Beidleman married for his wife Charlotte Carr. To this union were born three children: William A., George Ernest and Eva (Beidleman) Heinlin.

Samuel and Charlotte (Carr) Beidleman were separated about 1866.

Samuel Beidleman married Elizabeth C. Conner in 1867.

Elizabeth C. (Conner) Beidleman was born in Indiana on March 10, 1853 a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elza Conner. She came to Sauk Centre with her parents and the Richards family in 1865.

BEIDLEMAN, SAMUEL

Second interview to affirm or correct information in biography as compared to information as listed in the legal records in the Stearns County Court House.

CORRECTION:

The legal record is probably correct as to marriage date of Samuel Beidleman and Elizabeth Conners on November 17, 1873.
(Clyde, a grandson, does not have a record and feels the legal records more accurate than this memory.)
