Old Collection Is Given To Library For Student Use

Al Sirats Present College With Pictures, Newspapers Of Events In Nineties

In order that the entire college might benefit, the Al Sirats recently presented to the college library a collection of photographs and papers which was given them by the W. B. Mitchell family.

This collection includes photographs taken in 1890 of the old kindergarten, the first gymnasium (now the orchestra and band room), the science laboratory, and the old library (now the president's office.)

Among the newspapers is an issue of the "Journal Press" which was published on commencement day, May 28, 1897. On the front page are pictures of the school in 1874 and in 1897. The graduating class and the faculty consisting of 19 members are pictured on the inside.

Another paper contains essays written and read on graduation day by members of the graduation class. Among this collection is one entitled "Product Reveals the Producer" by Miss Charlotte M. Knudson.

Two bound catalogues for 1884 to 1890 and 1890 to 1897 are also included in the collection which will help complete the files of the college library.

Newman Club Shows Larger Attendance

Mr. Michael Haggerty Demonstrates Animated Cartoons. Next Term's Officers Will Be Elected

The last meeting of the Newman Club showed a marked increase in attendance. The students present expressed a sincere desire to keep up the good work and success of the Newman Club.

Mr. Michael Haggerty gave an interesting and informal demonstration on animated cartoons.

The next meeting will be held Thursday, November 22, at 7 P. M. in room Q. At that time officers will be elected to serve during the winter quarter. There are also other important matters to be considered.

The program of the evening will be a very informal one, in which certain members will explain timely topics pertaining to the Catholic Church.

Graduates, Football Men Will Be Honored At Tea

In honor of the fall term graduates and football men, the faculty will give a tea next Friday afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 at Shoemaker Hall.

Miss Helen Stephens is general chairman. Hosts and hostesses will be Mr. and Mrs. George Selke, Mr. and Mrs. John Talbot, Mr. and Mrs. George Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bemis, Miss Wauvita Bell, Miss Myrl Carlson, Miss Emma Larson, Miss Anna Larson, and Miss Ruth Moserup.

Writers Club Makes Change In Program

A new type of program has been devised by a committee headed by Betty Keller for the Writer's Club. The plan is to have a speaker for one of the two monthly meetings at which some phase of writing will be discussed. Topics such as how to write plays, declamations and short stories are among the subjects for which speakers will be secured. Round table discussion will follow. The other meeting will be devoted to the reading and discussion of materials submitted by the members.

Alma Kretschmer was elected vice-president and program chairman of the Writer's Club to fill the position to which Joseph Spies was elected last spring.

Selke Appointed To Rural Board

President George A. Selke was recently re-appointed to the committee on rural education for the current year. This work will be carried out under the leadership of Dr. Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of schools at Atlanta, Georgia.

The purpose of this committee is to provide the rural child with his share of advantages which are offered the urban child. For proper progress in society, the committee demands better rural educational opportunities. This committee will work in close harmony with the department of rural education.

Book Week Exhibit Planned By Students

Otto Dallman Heads Committee For Book Display; Many Factors Represented By Group

"Ride the Book Trail to Knowledge and Adventure" is the theme for Book Week which has been observed during the past week throughout the country. In observance of this week, a committee from Miss Lillian Howe's literature classes has arranged an exhibit in the library. The committee was as follows: Otto Dallman, chairman, Paul Blevins, Thea Peterson, Marva Maxwell, Dorothy Zimmerman, Theodore Radtke and Robert Johnson.

The display has as its center a bulletin board bearing the book week poster. At one side is posted a list of hobbies of famous people; at the other, a list of hobbies with the heading, "Which hobby is yours?" On a table below are placed several books which relate to these hobbies, showing how books can help in the development of a hobby. Interesting exhibits emphasizing special hobbies are grouped about this central display. Stamp collecting, music, etching, model ship building are a few of the exhibits. There is a table showing adventure stories in other lands. Here are wood carvings from Switzerland displayed with the favorite story about Switzerland, "Heidi." A Chinese ink block is displayed with Elsie's "Chinese Ink Stick." An ancient sword is displayed by the book "Genghis Khan." One very attractive feature is a model of a Viking ship, displayed with sea stories. Fascinating stories are displayed with a panel figure depicting favorite story book children.

An interesting and important part of the display is an exhibit of some of the hobbies of the Riverview boys and girls. The hobbies include model ships and airplanes, doll clothes, collections of moths, shells and galls, a grapefruit tree and several others. Books which assisted or could assist one in the pursuit of these hobbies are displayed with the objects.

Reading as a hobby is emphasized in some interesting adult books on the north side of the library. Nearby are shown some fine children's books. College students are urged to read one of them or a book from the children's room as part of their observance of book week this year.

In the children's room the junior high school English classes are exhibiting their favorite books.

At Riverview several demonstration lessons emphasizing book appreciation were given at the recent in these lessons the children showed their interest in books in various ways, including dramatization of scenes from books and reading favorite poems.

Heger Here Dec. 6 Under Y. M. Auspices

The Young Men's Christian Association of this college will sponsor a program to be given in the college auditorium, December 6, at 8:15 P. M. Heger, the magician, will provide the entertainment.

Heger is a well-known magician. He is endorsed by leaders of America in the movement for clean entertainments. He has had radio experiences, having participated as Prince Hesperus, Prince Khir, and the mysterious Dr. Mr. Heger will disclose secrets of fortune telling and will explain just how much science there is in palmistry.

Fortune Gallo To Present Operas

College Students Will Motor To Cities To Attend Operas; Nov. 23, 24 Set As Date

Crowning his achievements of a quarter-century, Fortune Gallo, impresario of the internationally famed San Carlo Opera Company, presents for the 1934-35 season, a notable group of American and European operatic principals.

To celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of this great company, Impresario Gallo has sent it on a tour with an impressive array of principals, chorus, and orchestra, spectacular ballet, and the finest scenic embellishments in the history of this operatic company.

Through the efforts of the music department, students of the Teachers College are being given the opportunity to attend three of the operas which are to be presented by the company in Minneapolis.

On Friday evening, November 23, they will see Wagner's "Lohengrin," with Dimitri Onofrei, tenor, taking the lead. On Saturday, November 24, two performances will be given. At the matinee, Puccini's colorful, "Madame Butterfly," and in the evening, "Il Trovatore."

According to Miss Stella Root and Miss Myrl Carlson, music supervisors, a large many students have specified their desire to attend the operas presented by the San Carlo company.

"Little Red" Depicted On Christmas Seal

With its picture of "Little Red," the first sanatorium for modern treatment of tuberculosis to be established in the United States, the 1934 Christmas Seal commences the fiftieth anniversary of the opening of this tiny cottage by Dr. Edward Livingston Trudeau.

Dr. Trudeau, a sufferer of tuberculosis, found that sunshine, rest, and outdoor life at Saranac lake in the Adirondacks greatly improved his condition. With visions of this present day method of treatment, he wished to help other tuberculosis patients. The first fulfillment of his hope was the building of the one room cottage, "Little Red." Here, in 1885, came the first patients, two factory girls from New York.

From this beginning have grown many beautiful scientifically planned buildings that make up Cottage Sanatorium at Saranac lake today. Throughout the United States there are now more than 650 similar modern institutions. It is in memory of this foundation by Dr. Trudeau that the Christmas seal carries to everyone at the holiday season the message that tuberculosis is curable.

Preparations now underway for annual Freshman Play

Preparations for the freshman class play are already underway. Miss Helen Stephens, dramatic coach, announces that the cast will be chosen by Thanksgiving.

Various plays are being considered among which are: "The Gratitude," by Frank Craven; "Dulcy" by Max Connelly and George Kaufman; "Mary's Ankle," by May Tully and William Davidson.

Camera Kraft Club Study Xmas Designs

Beginning with the study of the silhouette as a basis for designing Christmas cards, the Camera Kraft Club will start its holiday assignment. By using the camera, the members are able to create many effects varying from the humorous to the beautiful.

The project will include a study of the symbolism of color and design fitting for a Christmas theme.

All the students and faculty interested in this type of work are invited to the meetings which are held on Wednesday nights from 7:00 until 8:00 o'clock.

Freshmen To Choose Officers For '34-35

Student Council, W.S.G.A. Members Also To Be Picked At Election Monday, November 19

Officers of the freshman class and representatives to the student council and W. S. G. A. will be chosen at the election to be held on Monday, November 19 at the close of the assembly period.

Helen Rosenwald of Bellingham headed the nominating committee that chose the candidates for the various positions. The other two members of the committee were Harry Johnson of Proctor and Julia Sletten of Willmar.

Those nominated are: president, Jack Dawson of St. Cloud, Robert Dokken of Watertown, South Dakota, and Laura Simer of Minneapolis; vice-president, Beatta Halvorsen of Battle Lake, Paul Roof of Montevideo, and Dorothy Zimmerman of Brownston; secretary, Edith Anderson of Chisholm, Raymond Heimerl of Madison, and Marva Maxwell of Sacred Heart; treasurer, Harriet Olson of New London, Margaret Comerford of Murdock, and Lucille Barker of Northome; Student council representatives, Richard Kallen of Jasper, Jeune Empey of Farmington and Adeline Radde of Waconia; W. S. G. A. representatives, Mary Keel of Astor, Annaliese Keel of Brainerd, and Mary Wyckhoff of Breckenridge.

"Food" To Be Given By Players Nov. 22

"Food," a one-act tragedy by Cecil DeMille, is to be presented before the Players on Thursday, November 22. This play takes place fifty years from the present time. The setting is ideally modern. As the title indicates, the plot is concerned with the food problem in 1984. Food is a perplexing problem today, and this play unfolds the drama of food in 1984. Raymond Heimerl and Margaret MacDonald are directing.

Work has also been begun on a Thanksgiving play, "Priscilla, Miles, and John," Bessie Weinstein and Elaine Matteson are the directors.

Art Classes To Sell Original Xmas Cards To Finance Picture

The commercial design and lettering class is making attractive Christmas cards which are to be offered for sale to the student body. The cards which are made of wood cuts printed on attractively colored paper, are on display in the art room.

The proceeds received from the sale of the cards will be used to buy for the art room, a picture in the modern vein.

Al Sirats To Pledge New Members Soon

Approximately twenty new members will be pledged to Al Sirat in the near future. The fraternity held a pledge party at the house last Tuesday evening. A large number of guests were present. Games were played and a get-acquainted idea was carried out.

Plans are under way for a remodeling of the third story to accommodate about six new members who will move in at the beginning of the next quarter. The fraternity has just recently donated a series of old time catalogs and valuable papers of by-gone years to the school library.

Sophomores Will Choose Faculty Advisers Monday

Pribble, Stephens, McCrory, Clugston on Slate; Will Serve Class For Three Years

Sophomores will elect two class advisers Monday after the assembly. The slate for the election is as follows: Miss Evalin Pribble, Miss Helen Stephens, Mr. H. C. Clugston, Mr. J. R. McCrory.

Because of a new ruling by the student council these elections were held last spring. All nominations for officers were made by a nominating committee composed of the old officers, and were posted two weeks previous to the election. By this method it is expected to avoid hasty and little considered nominations. In addition it was thought that class affairs could be started more quickly in the fall.

Dr. David Bryn-Jones Has Many Experiences

Dr. David Bryn-Jones, the speaker at assembly on Thursday in recognition of Book Week, was born in Wales. He graduated with honors from the University of Wales and continued there as a research student. Later he was Stanley Jerons' research scholar at Liverpool University. After filling various pulpits as a Baptist minister in Wales, he engaged in settlement work. He was a pioneer in advocating adult education of the working people. During the years 1920-1924 he was professor of economics and political science at Carleton college, Northfield, Minnesota where he was very popular with the students. Since 1924, he has been the minister of the Trinity Baptist Church in Minneapolis. He is much in demand as a lecturer on world politics, a field in which he is a recognized authority.

His inspiring address, which was sponsored by student and faculty library committees, was much appreciated by faculty and students.

College Dance To Be Given November 24 At Eastman Hall

According to Marcella Schaedler, chairman of the social activities committee, plans are under way for an all-college dance to be held in Eastman Hall on November 24. Full details will be announced at a later date.

Reading Helps In The Broader View

The crying need of most college students is for broader interests. In the four years in which they ought to be reaching out, acquiring new loves, and wider appreciation, too often there has already arisen the tendency to narrow down, to exclude everything from their activities but that which pertains to their own specialized field. When this is allowed to occur so early it is likely to prove a handicap in doing the important work of helping to inspire children to broader, deeper living.

Reading is the one way by which it is possible to keep up with a fast moving world, when required activities become so pressing. Thus the appropriateness of the Book Week slogan, "Ride the Book Trail to Knowledge and Adventure." You will find that books cover a richer, wider range of subjects than you had dreamed.

Seals Recall Trudeau's Fight

Every year at this time the Red Cross stages its annual Christmas Seal drive to combat tuberculosis. The 1934 seal represents one of the most important steps ever taken in the conservation of the life and health of young people, and, viewing it from a historical standpoint, this twenty-eighth annual seal is important as the first commemorative seal ever issued.

The cottage is "Little Red", the first sanatorium for the modern treatment of tuberculosis to be established in the United States. The seal commemorates the fiftieth anniversary of the opening of this tiny cottage in the Adirondack mountains in New York by Dr. Edward Livingston Trudeau.

Trudeau, himself a sufferer from tuberculosis, left his family and friends, and went to the wilderness of those mountains he loved so well, to die, he thought. At that time just as today, the disease struck younger men and women, but then it was considered a death sentence. Today this much dreaded disease is known to be preventable and curable and "Little Red" as it is called, stands for hope and health to the many victims who have been cured.

There at Saranac Lake in the Adirondacks, Trudeau's health improved. He found the curative powers to be sunshine, rest, and outdoor life. With this vision of the present-day methods of treatment he wished to help other tubercular patients. The first fulfillment of this wish was the building of the cheap little one-room cottage, "Little Red". Here in 1885 came the first patients, two factory girls from New York City.

From this humble beginning have grown the many beautiful scientifically equipped buildings that make up the Cottage Sanatorium at Saranac Lake today. Throughout the United States there are now more than 650 similar modern institutions.

"Little Red" still stands among Trudeau's well loved pine clad hills and the Christmas Seal this year carries to everyone at the holiday season his message that tuberculosis is curable. This is the story of the seal that will grace our gift packages and cards this year, and it is with great willingness that we collect our pennies to buy these seals that will mean health, happiness, and even life to many people.

"A soldier is a man dressed to Kill."
"The average man is proof enough that a woman can take a joke."

"The Depression will be over when girls' fingernails get out of the red."

"My handicap in golf is my honesty."

And now comes the word that there will be a revival of the Rural Life Club. Our own Ludvig has taken to the plow. What is it, Lud, thirty or forty acres? Lud says, "I've decided to take the reins into my own hands."

Last week I visited the smallest city in the world. Thirty-two homes, practically all the same kind. The city has no city hall, fire dept., library, churches, schools, nor roll top desks for the officials, who by the way, are the last word in "What's yours is mine and what's mine is mine."

Here and Abroad

There are some things you should know about student government on this campus:

The students' organizations office is the room to the right of the Dean of Women's office. Here you can learn practically anything you need to know about what's what.

Incidentally this is the place where the point system committee will go to work in the near future, checking up on the extra-curricular activities of every student in school. If you are not taking part in some activity you will very likely hear from it.

The National Students' Federation of America meets at Boston this year during the Christmas holidays. The State Teachers college of St. Cloud is a member of this group, which includes most of the major colleges and universities in the United States.

Three years ago the federation met at Cleveland, Ohio. St. Cloud sent two delegates, John McDougall and Ione Corryell. The result of that convention was our present set up of student government, that is, our executive board system.

Two years ago Donald Schwartz represented us at New Orleans where he was instrumental in putting through several resolutions passed by the congress. While engaging in a discussion there he crossed swords with a Mr. Moeller of California who was rated as an honor student at California in addition to playing an All-American game of football.

Last year the congress met at Washington, D. C., where George Edberg represented St. Cloud.

There is a table in the library where you may find news bits, articles, editorials, from and about other colleges of the United States. There too, will be a copy of the Student Mirror. We hope to add other college publications soon.

The Foreign Relations Club is going great guns with Henry Walton at the head. Mr. D. S. Brainerd is adviser to the group. That alone should bring out prospective members for that man always has something interesting to contribute. The center of discussion for a week from Monday is the present London naval conference.

As The Curtain Falls

Drama activities outside of the Teachers college are taking the attention of the students and faculty members during the present time. Several have already seen one or both of the plays being presented by the Drama Festival in Minneapolis. For a play to be set to be produced in the series sponsored by this group at the Schubert theatre. Six plays in all will be given, each with a New York cast and at least one outstanding star in the leading role. It is the plan to have some of the Players and Blackfriars to attend a performance of the third play, "The Shining Hour," this evening.

Irene Purcell played the leading role in the first play of the Drama Festival, "Biography." Sylvia Field and Rollo Peters had leading parts in the second play, "Autumn Crocus." The well-known stage and screen star, Conrad Nagel, plays the part of David Linden in "The Shining Hour." Another famous star who also appears in the play which the Blackfriars are to see is Edith Tallaferro, who has the role of Linden's wife. The last of the series has been designed for "The Shining Hour" in its Minneapolis presentation. A unique feature of the drama is the fact that Conrad Nagel plays a piano selection which was written especially for this production.

Of more interest to St. Cloud audiences, perhaps, than the Minneapolis entertainments is the tentative schedule for the Paramount theatre. Although the dates for the coming pictures are not yet definitely set, the following ones will be shown here in the near future. Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch, The Last Gentleman, The Night of Love, The World Moves On, The Servant in the House, and The Merry Widow. Outstanding players to be seen in the pictures listed above are: George Arliss, Pauline Lord, Zazu Pitts, C. Fields, Grace Moore, Maurice Chevalier, and George MacDonald.

Current trends in the motion picture industry seem to be toward the higher type of dramatic art. Fewer movies which appeal only to morose minds and more of those which appeal to the thinking public are being offered. Many of the new pictures are presentations of old and tried stories which the people are familiar. If the stories are new, the themes on which they are based are old. The pendulum of cinema entertainment has swung a long way in the direction of racy, sexy movies; it is just beginning to swing back to normal, healthy stories which have a genuine appeal to the higher emotions of life.

In The Music World

Music teachers attending their recent convention in Minneapolis were allowed by Eugene Ormandy to witness a rehearsal of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra. Rarely does one have the permit anyone to watch a rehearsal of his orchestra. But he must have realized the benefit musical educators of our state would derive from observing a practice period of so great an organization. It is just as well, no doubt, that the boys and girls who are to bring back to the boys and girls in the musical groups of their schools inspiring ideas. It is the hope of Mr. Ormandy that some day the Minneapolis Orchestra will be made up entirely of musicians from the Twin Cities and from other sections of Minnesota. If his cherished dream is realized, there will be no importing of players from Chicago New York and other great centers of music.

The rehearsal of Ormandy's orchestra may be characterized as business like. There is no waste of time. When the appointed hour arrives the conductor takes his place on the podium and signals to his musicians to commence. Ormandy puts great energy into his conducting and demands the same amount of work from the players. He knows definitely what effects he wishes in a composition and conveys these to his players by his gestures and facial expressions. He may even sing a passage to make his idea clearer. There is a fifteen minute intermission in a rehearsal. It was observed that players came up to Mr. Ormandy during the intermission to ask for suggestions of individual help. What could be more indicative of the genial spirit that exists between conductor and players in the orchestra?

If you have a few minutes to spare, drop into the social room to see the new Cable grand piano which has been added to our music department. The old piano has been moved to the music studio as a student practice instrument.

Alumni Chatter

by Noite Jarvi

Grand Rapids, Minnesota and vicinity are quite a stronghold for St. Cloud grads. Mel Krueger, '33, intra-mural cup winner, and otherwise a notable, conducts junior high classes at the Itasca County seat. Donald Schwartz, '34, the politician, according to Krueger, is in the senior high. They are roommates. The high school coach, a Mr. Larson, '23, has been there for five years. His grid warriors had an exceptional season. Peter Broquist, '31, is principal at Wendigo. He dislikes telephones so he had the one at the school removed.

Al Yeager, '29, somewhat of a pugilist, and a shark student, has no difficulty keeping the wolf from the door as he teaches and preaches at Glasgow, Montana.

From one columnist to another, "Paiva, Mestari Rieder," George Karvonen, Ranger president, or "Finn" Kosonen should be able to translate this.

Although the writer has repeatedly called for volunteer contributions to this column, only Frank Kolar, '34, teacher at Crosby, has obliged with a story. Who will be number two?

Miss Laura Luthanen, '29, is a St. Louis County rural principal.

By the way, Miss Lucille Doeple, '28, who addressed the Calvin Forum at Homecoming breakfast, was the best school citizen in 1928.

It is a high honor to our college that two of our music instructors were asked to play on the program at the state music teachers' convention. Harvey Waugh's performance on the violin of the "Sonata in G" by Albert Stossel was highly praised by the delegates for its artistry. Miss Helen Greim provided the piano accompaniment to his violin selection.

The first teachers college in this state to organize a school band as part of the extra-curricular program was St. Cloud.

N. S. F. A. Convention To Meet In Boston In Christmas Holidays

The annual meeting of the National Students Federation of America will be held in Boston, Massachusetts during Christmas Vacation. Through the Student Council of this school the membership fee has been paid and plans are now underway to send a delegate.

Colleges of the United States are benefited in many ways through their membership to this federation. Some of their services are:

1. A weekly news release carrying reports of student life and activities in all parts of the United States and in foreign countries.

2. Information about competent speakers and lecturers and how and where to secure them.

3. Weekly radio broadcasts on subjects of interest to students and educators.

4. The privilege of being represented at the Federation's annual national and district conferences where problems of student activity are discussed, and valuable contacts made with both student and public leaders. At these sessions students are trained further in leadership, are taught to wrestle more effectively with their local problems, and to realize that they must base their course of action upon sound judgment and foresight.

5. Connections with every type of organization that deals with the interests of young people.

6. An active part in a united effort to develop a progressive student opinion and a constructive student expression in the United States.

Shoe Strings

An anxious group hovered about the living room, attention centered chiefly on the clock. Only time would tell. Ten minutes to eleven—five minutes to eleven. Retribution would be sweet. The joy and gratification of inflicting upon the infliker of penalties what she had so often inflicted upon them—the deserts of coming in late. Four minutes to eleven, the clock ticked ominously on. Three minutes to eleven, still no clatter of feet on the porch steps. Two minutes to go—a click of the latch, and in came the assistant. Hopes have died and dreams have crashed. Empires have fallen and Casey at the bat struck is yet what is so bitter as thwarted revenge. Wordlessly, with emotion too deep for tears, the heartbroken group sought their rooms.

Artistic temperament will out. Proof: The signs on Boyanna Popovich's door. Perhaps they are an expression of some half-suppressed longing—the one which shouts out in the green letters, "Welcome to Little Bohemia," and the one which informs in grim black letters, "Cell No. 13." At any rate don't make the mistake of taking them too literally, or you will be doomed to disappointment. Boyanna has not taken to apple-vending. The sign which reads "Apples, 2 for 5c" was merely picked up at the Greek's.

The sight of Elsa Hunt stalking about third floor wrapped up in an Indian blanket proved so ghastly to Margaret Smith that her knees actually gave way from fright. There would have been no sleep for Margaret that night in a building deserted by M. E. A. vacationists, had not Jennie Skule come down and guarded over her through the wee small hours.

Since Pugs Sharp, the canine in whose dormitory some of the T. C. girls live, has acquired her new fall wardrobe, it is a question as to whether or not a civil "Good morning" will receive an answer. When she wears her shiny new harness with the brass studs she steps so daintily and holds her head so high, that quite likely you do not even come within her range of vision. And when she has her new gray and green, plaid blanket belted about her middle, her vanity reaches the point where she can only sit proudly up on her haunches and gaze haughtily about her domain. (She has not yet acquired the art of manipulating her legs under the blanket.)

"Show your will power," says Anresa Coldagelli to poor dieting Laura Simer, "and don't have any dessert tonight. I'll help you," and she eats Laura's spice cake with chocolate sauce and whipped cream, besides her own.

Shortage of bath tubs reported on second floor since nobody ever came home from a rushing party with a little steam boat run by candle power. It's such fun to hear it go "chug, chug," that Laura could just sit watching it for hours.

Council Point System Undergoes Changes

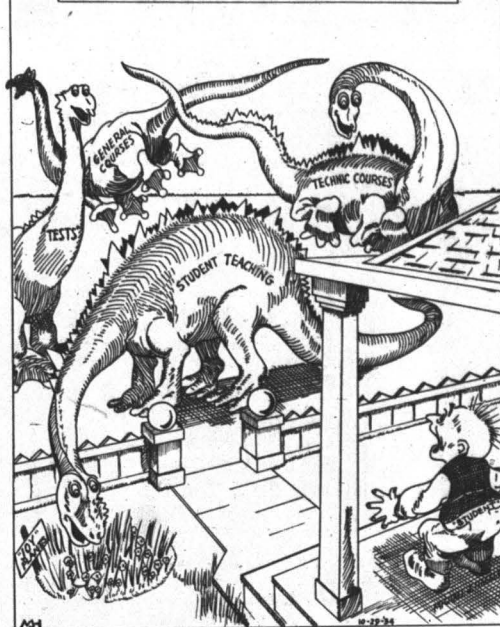

This list of activity points should be checked by each college student to determine his own activity record per quarter. The limitations should be noted. The requirement of at least four points earned before graduation should be fulfilled by the students who, entered the college for the first time in September, 1933.

- D student 8 points per quarter.
- C student 20 points per quarter.
- B student 30 points per quarter.
- A student. No limit on points.

Many Varied Types Of Rushing Parties Held For New Girls

Rushing parties were given by the different societies the latter part of last week.

On Wednesday evening the social room was the scene of the Photozeteans "backward" party at which the guests dressed, talked, walked, and even ate backward.

The Story Tellers on the following evening transformed the social room into the deck of a pirate's ship. The hostesses as pirates and the guests as prisoners enjoyed a thrilling treasure hunt and were served dinner in a typical pirate style.

The S. S. Athenaeum was in port at the social room door on Friday evening from 7:30 to 10:00.

The Minervas entertained their rushes at a breakfast-dance Saturday morning at the Breen Hotel.

A formal tea was given at the Breen from 2:00 until 4:00 o'clock by the Waverly Society. Miss Frances Neale's home was the scene of the tea at which guests of the Avons were entertained.

Rangers To Initiate Forty Students Tonight

The elaborate initiation planned by the Ranger Club for the forty or more new members will take place this evening from seven to eight-thirty. Merle Allard, Henrietta Ferrari, and Thomas Bukvich are in general charge of the arrangements. A dancing party will follow.

Two Lettermen Report For First Cage Practice

Many Candidates Report For First '34 Cage Practice

Arnold, Kunze, Only Lettermen Back; Arnold To Captain Cagers During Season

A large squad of healthy young athletes reported to Coach Colletti for the initial practice, last Monday. Among them, there were two lettermen from last year, Flick Arnold and Joe Kunze. Flick Arnold has been one of the main cogs in the Ped's machine for the last two seasons and has been elected to captain the team through the 1934 season. Joe Kunze is the other letterman, and has been holding down the center position for the Peds for the past two years. He has given the St. Cloud fans many thrills with his ability as a cager during his two years with the Peds. His work distinction last year by winning a place on the All-Conference first team.

Vilho Kosanen and Les Alden, members of the last year's team, also reported for practice, and are expected to win positions on the first five this season. Around these men Coach Colletti expects to build a strong team, with a pretty fair looking bunch of newcomers. The remaining members of the squad are nearly all freshmen and have had some experience in high school teams, with the exception of Tom Perpitch, who last year was a member of the St. Thomas five. Competition for the various positions on the team will be exceptionally keen, and much of the material will need development and polishing.

Five Football Men End Grid Career

Talbert, Miller, Bukvich, Alden, Funk, Linemen, Complete Gridiron Experiences

The St. Cloud Teachers football season turned out much more successfully than was anticipated by Coach Lynch and the Ped supporters. Starting at scratch with some high school stars, and a few men who had never played in a game of football, he developed the St. Cloud machine until it became a power in the conference. Next year, with only five men missing by graduation, things will be on the up-grade here.

The five to be lost to the College Eleven are Captain Talbert, Ex-captain Bud Miller, Bukvich, Alden, and Funk, linemen. These men have all played well for St. Cloud and it is going to take some lucky prospects to fill the gap, but Coach Lynch has been working with this in mind this year and has some good looking reserves who should work in next fall.

Intramural Program Given By W. A. A.

The W. A. A. intramural sports program is now underway. Tournaments are being played in ping pong and shuffleboard. The girls participating in the ping pong tournament are: Elsa Hunt, Eleanor Andrus, Evelyn Koch, Velma Fleming, Elaine Matteson, Althea Norwood, Maxine Cook, Lois Klaus, Lois Hammond, Jean Mitchell, Irene Dombovy, Barbara Harding, and Rose Hafner. Because of the large number of girls participating in this tournament will not be finished until very near the end of the quarter.

The girls who will compete in the shuffleboard tournament are: Lois Hammond, Ella Dallman, Maxine Cook, Evelyn Koch, Alice Nolan, Elaine Matteson, and Irene Dombovy. These tournament games are played during free periods and at four-thirty. The competition has been keen and the games have proved most interesting for the spectators.

San Francisco—Patrick John O'Dea one-time University of Wisconsin grid star, who supposedly disappeared in 1919, has reappeared as Charles J. Mitchell, a prominent Northern California business man. He explained this week he wanted to get away from being just an "ex-Wisconsin football player."

CAGE COACH

Eddie Colletti

Eddie Colletti Takes Over Cage Duties

Former Student Will Continue As Basketball Coach; Has Fine College Athletic Record

Eddie Colletti has taken over the duties of head basketball coach for the 1934-35 season.

Colletti was first appointed basketball coach at T. C. last season. He graduated from school here two years ago with eleven letters to his credit, having played varsity football, tennis, track, and basketball, winning a place at half-back on the all-conference team in 1931.

Not long ago he held the state broad jumping record for over a period of one year. This fall he acted in the capacity of assistant coach for the college eleven.

In 1933 Eddie began his coaching career by handling the reserves. His activities have not been restricted to athletics only, as he is a member of the Al Sirats, Newman Club, Rangers, and the Lettermen's Club and has an excellent scholastic record.

Mr. Colletti showed his ability as a coach when he last year trained a team which took second place in the conference.

The St. Cloud Teachers fans are looking forward to a successful season this year.

by Terry McGovern

After witnessing the Moorhead game one can readily see why that team has not lost any games this season. It seems a pity that Moorhead should lose its place at the head of the Conference because of a conflict in athletic rules, especially when other teams in the same conference are doing things which are just as unfair.

St. Cloud went into second place in the Conference by its victory over Mankato. St. Cloud showed more power and drive on the offense than it gained this year. Practice started Monday for the boys who have not been out for football. There seems to be plenty of material for a team this year, but as yet we cannot say just how good it will be.

Now that football season is over our attention turns to basketball. Coach Colletti is to have charge of the squad again this year. Practice started Monday for the boys who have not been out for football. There seems to be plenty of material for a team this year, but as yet we cannot say just how good it will be.

Duluth finished at head of Teachers College Conference because of the gratis game given to them by Moorhead. St. Cloud finished second, one game behind Duluth (but she didn't have any games handed to her on a platter). Winona Moorhead, and Mankato were tied for third place with Bemidji finishing in last place.

Mankato Downed By Peds In Last Game Of Gridiron Season

Duluth Teachers Win The Conference Championship; St. Cloud Takes Second Place In Contest

After threatening almost constantly for more than three periods, the St. Cloud Teachers college gridgers pushed across a touchdown about midway in the fourth canto to defeat the Mankato Peds here, in the final game of the season.

St. Cloud's running attack was superior to that of the visitors and the statistics of the game showed 14 first downs for the home team to three for Mankato, all of them coming in rapid succession early in the game. Throughout the final half the downstate team was unable to show anything in the way of an offense that exerted St. Cloud's strong defensive power.

One of the highlights of the game was the play of some of the inexperienced players on the squad who will be back for further competition. Chief among these was Smith, a backfield man, who showed unusual drive, along with Johnstone who has been the backbone of the offense throughout the season. Curran likewise showed more than the usual drive.

The St. Cloud line again showed power at all stages of the game with the exception of the one drive made by the Mankatoans, which was stopped before damage was done.

In the second period St. Cloud offered its first real threat. Curran took a punt in midfield and returned to Mankato's 40 yard line. Johnstone and Deboloch each picked up four yards and Johnstone then went to the 28 yard line for a first down. Deboloch hit the line for six more and Johnstone drove through to the 15 yard line for another first down. After two line plays failed to gain, Johnstone tossed a pass to Perpitch on the 10 yard line and the ball was downed there. After a series of line plays and after completing several first downs, the St. Cloud Peds were six inches from the goal as the half ended. Johnstone was injured on the final play of the first half.

Toward the close of the third period, St. Cloud worked the ball deep into Mankato territory again, but failed to score. St. Cloud took a punt on its own 35 yard line and started a parade. After completing two first downs, a shovel pass was fumbled and Mankato recovered, warding off another St. Cloud threat.

The march that brought the touchdown started with the opening of the final period. Curran took a punt on his own 40 yard line and returned it five yards. Curran and Johnstone failed to gain but a pass, Johnstone to Deboloch, made it a first down on Mankato's 37 yard line. Smith made five yards, fumbled the ball and Johnstone recovered for a net gain of about eight yards. In two plays St. Cloud made a first down and with several more plays Johnstone dashed to Mankato's two yard line for a first down.

Deboloch picked up one of the remaining yards and then Deboloch went over the line for the counter. Curran's attempted conversion by placekick was blocked, but the only score of the game had been hung up and St. Cloud was in front, 6 to 0.

Although Mankato attempted to open a passing attack in the last five minutes, Rengel's interception of one of the drives cut off all chance and St. Cloud kept possession of the ball most of the remaining distance.

Los Angeles—Coed guards, assigned by a sophomore women's organization at the University of California at Los Angeles to keep students from walking on the University of California seal imprinted in the floor of the library building this week were relieved of their duties. "Impractical," ruled Dean Helen Mathewson Laughlin.

Teachers Defeated By Moorhead Eleven

Undefeated Northern Team Downs St. Cloud Aggregation 13 to 6; T. C. Makes Good Showing

The T. C. fans witnessed a strong defensive game, here, when St. Cloud Peds bowed to the strong, undefeated Moorhead Eleven.

It was a battle of defensive teams and the Moorhead line looked like a stone wall as the St. Cloud backs crashed into it and stopped in their tracks. Both teams played cautiously, waiting for a break.

The first real break came when Joe Perpitch intercepted a lateral pass on his own 20 yard line and raced 80 yards for a touchdown with Johnstone furnishing perfect interference all the way. He kept the fleet Hollister and another Moorhead man from overtaking Perpitch. Neither team could claim much of an advantage in the exchange of punts, Perpitch and Hollister both getting off well placed and lengthy boots time and again.

It was the elusive Hollister that caused the threat all the way. He squirmed away from one tackler after another.

St. Cloud Line Strong
St. Cloud's line, while not so effective in midfield as that of the foe, looked good in the pinches and when backed to its own goal line, it put up just as good an appearance as that of the former league leaders. Tom Bukvich, Les Alden, and John Kuffel all played fine games in the line. John Rengel, making his second start at end, was also in every play and shows signs of developing into an outstanding wingman. Talbert and Miller proved to be big bricks on T. C. defensive lineup. Johnstone and Curran had some success in gaining yardage in the backfield.

Perpitch put St. Cloud in the lead late in the first quarter when he grabbed the lateral pass and ran 80 yards for a touchdown. Moorhead had punts out of bounds inside of St. Cloud's 10 yard line and the return boot was grounded on about the 40 yard marker. After a series of line plays, Hollister of Moorhead, tossed the lateral that Perpitch grabbed out of the air and started his touchdown romp. With Johnstone following at his heels for interference, the big wingman went the entire distance unmolested. Johnstone passed for the extra point and the pass was knocked down.

Moorhead Takes Lead
About midway in the second period Moorhead scored and took a one point lead by converting the extra point. Starting on their own 35 yard line, the Moorhead backs started a crushing attack that carried the ball into St. Cloud territory. Burke got away to St. Cloud's 45 yard line on the first try. Then Hollister, on two attempts, advanced to the 15 yard marker. After being held for no gain, Hollister tossed a pass to Burke who completed it over the goal line for a touchdown. Bierness place kicked goal.

The team battled through the third period without gaining any advantage. St. Cloud was decidedly stronger than in the two opening periods, and it began to appear that the scoring might end right where it was in the first half. About the middle of the final quarter, Hollister got away on one of his dashes, taking the ball from a kick formation and catching the St. Cloud defense flat-footed. He rushed around left end, cut back in and won the remaining 25 yards for the second touchdown. Bierness' try for point by placekick was wide.

St. Cloud Had A Chance To Score
In the closing minutes of play St. Cloud opened a passing attack that threatened, largely by penalty, a first down on Moorhead's 38 yard line was granted for interference. After a pass play was called it was St. Cloud's ball, first down and four yards to go for a touchdown.

Johnstone hit the line where he was halted. Two passes were incomplete, one that looked like a sure bet, and a third one was intercepted behind the goal line for a touchback. The ball was put in play on the 20 yard line and after one thrust the final gun cracked.

The football squad journeyed to Minneapolis last Saturday to witness the Homecoming game, the one between Minnesota and Michigan. The game was very colorful, especially during the second half. The long passes, runs, punts, and blocking, were features long to be remembered by those who saw the contest. After the game the boys were taken over supper and then to a movie and vaudeville performance at the Orpheum Theatre.

Midget Flyers	0	3	.000

Ping Pong Tournament Held

The intra-mural ping pong tournament has been organized and is under way with 59 ping pongers participating in the activity. It has progressed rather slowly and Mr. A. F. Brainard urges the men entered to get together with their opponents and play off the matches as soon as possible. The winner of each match will be the best of two out of three games. Participants are asked to arrange to play their matches at an early date. Anyone causing a delay in the match, may have to forfeit.
