Rules for Home Games Reviewed

Rules for admission to home football games have been reviewed by Hans Berg, faculty member who is in charge of ticket sales and passes.

All students, faculty members and others with passes are to enter the stadium through gates 2 and 3. All paid admissions will be admitted through gates 1 and 4.

These rules will be carried out in order to accommodate the spectators better, said Mr. Berg. Exceptions will be made, however, in the case of those with passes who are accompanied by paid admissions, as well as in the case of performing groups, such as visiting bands.

He asked, however, that those guests accompanying a person with a pass, purchase their ticket at either gate 1 or 4, and then enter Selke field through gate 2 or 3, with the person having the pass.

Tickets on Sale

For Speech Play

"Ladies in Retirement," the murder-mystery play to be presented by the speech department, will be given on Wednesday, October 23, with two more performances scheduled for Thursday and Friday nights. All three performances will begin at 8:15 p.m. in Stewart hall auditorium.

Tickets went on sale yesterday, the proceeds of which will go to the Alpha Psi Omega scholarship fund.

The play is supposed to be a real "thriller," according to Harriet Whitley, cast member in charge of publicity. Walter Winchell in one of his columns stated, after seeing the production, "Go see it and get the . . . scared out of you."

The audience is informed at the beginning who it is that will commit the murder but they are not informed as to how many murders. The cast was chosen earlier in the year and the entire production is under the direction of Mr. Raymond H. Pederson.

Library Dedication; CMEA Scheduled for This Week

Library Dedication

Dedication ceremonies for the new Kiehle library will be held in Stewart hall auditorium at 3 p. m. Friday, immediately following the speech by Walter Reuther which will wind up the CMEA program.

The dedication will be followed by a coffee hour in the library sponsored by the CMEA. Guided tours of the building will be conducted at that time.

Former President John W. Headley, now president of South Dakota State college at Brookings, will give the address of dedication. President George F. Budd will preside at the ceremonies.

The keys to the library will be presented formally to Resident Director W. W. Holes by Mr. Earl L. Berg, Minnesota Commissioner of Administration.

The invocation will be given by the Most Reverend Peter W. Bartholome, Bishop of St. Cloud, and the benediction will be given by W. F. Dickens-Lewis, president of the St. Cloud Ministerial Association.

The musical portion of the program will include a selection by the Choral club under the direction of Mr. Harvey Waugh, and another selection by a faculty trio composed of Mr. Waugh on the violin, Mr. Roger Barrett on the trombone, and Mr. William Stoney on the piano.

The library, which has been in use now since the fall of 1952, is regarded by many experts as one of the outstanding college libraries in the Midwest. The building reflects many hours of careful advance planning work with the architect by the librarians, Miss Edith Grannis and Miss Mamie Martin, and by the faculty library committee.

The building is named after the second president of the college, Dr. David L. Kiehle, who was an outstanding figure in the development of public education in Minnesota during the latter half of the nineteenth century.

Members of the present Library committee include: Miss Pauline Penning, chairman; Miss Andra Whitford; Mr. Edward Colletti; Mr. Gerald Ahlquist; Mr. John Cochrane; Miss Bea Williams; Miss Martin; Miss Audrey Crawford; Miss Eunice Smith; President George Budd and Miss Grannis.

Members of the Library Dedication committee include: Miss Penning, chairman; Mr. Waugh; Miss Grace Nugent; Miss Helen Hill; Mr. William Donnelly; and Miss Grannis.

Walter Reuther, national president of the CIO, will be the featured speaker at the Friday afternoon meeting of the Central Minnesota Education association, which will be held on the Teachers college campus this week.

Reuther's speech will be given to a general session of CMEA at 2 p.m. Friday in Stewart hall auditorium.

Preceding Reuther's address will be a speech by John Harvey Furbay, public relations manager for the airline industry. This speech will be given at the general session Thursday afternoon in Stewart hall auditorium.

Dr. John Headley, former president of St. Cloud Teachers college, and now president of South Dakota State college at Brookings, will be the main speaker at the library dedication following the Reuther address.

Dr. George Selke, another former president of St. Cloud Teachers college, who has recently returned from Germany, will speak to the CMEA social studies division Friday morning.

Dr. Virginia Harris, of the University of Minnesota faculty, will address the library section meeting Friday morning. Dr. Harris was formerly a member of the St. Cloud Teachers college faculty, leaving only last spring.

Two exchange teachers from Rotterdam, Holland, will address the foreign language meeting Friday morning. They are Miss Helen Van der Vliet and Mr. Kees Weijers.

Miss Rosemary Begner, director of art in the Kansas City public schools, will be the speaker at the art sectional meeting of CMEA.

Dr. Wittich of the University of Minnesota audio-visual department will be the speaker for the CMEA audio-visual division meeting.

Celebration to Continue Through Saturday Night

Homecoming festivities got off to a fast start this morning with the annual kick-off convocation, and will continue through Saturday night when the homecoming dance will climax the week.

Voting in the primary election for the selection of a homecoming queen got underway immediately after the convocation, and will continue all day. The final election will take place all day tomorrow in the lobby of Stewart hall.

Meanwhile, campus organizations are putting the finishing touches on floats for the Saturday parade, and chairmen are preparing final plans for the rest of the week.

MEA This Weekend

H. Clugston, dean of academic administration, has announced that classes will end with the last hour on Wednesday for the CMEA meeting period, and that they will resume again with first hour on Monday morning.

Nancy Kasch, awards chairman, announced that first, second, and third place prizes will be awarded for floats in the parade. A first and second place award will be made both for the best decorated on-campus home and off-campus home. The "Sir Pep" award, given annually, will again be presented to the campus group showing the most homecoming spirit, as determined by judges.

Another highlight of the celebration is a scavenger hunt, sponsored by the Business club, to be held tomorrow night at 8 p.m.

Thursday at 3 p.m. Alpha Phi Omega fraternity is sponsoring free swimming in the Eastman hall pool. Friday at 2 p.m. the Kiehle library dedication services will be held in the Stewart hall auditorium, followed by coffee hour in the library.

Highlighting homecoming activities Friday will be the coronation of the homecoming queen at 7:30 p.m. in the Stewart hall auditorium. This activity will be followed by the annual variety show. A lounge dance, sponsored by FTA, will climax the Friday night activities.

Saturday morning the homecoming parade is set for 10 a.m., and the homecoming game will be played against Bemidji team at 1:30 p.m. At 6 p.m., a dinner for the alumni will be held in the college cafeteria, and the annual homecoming dance will be held in Eastman hall.

Jeanne Beckman, in charge of alumni registration, announced that hours have been set on Thursday night, Friday afternoon, and Saturday afternoon and night.

The variety show on Friday night will feature the theme of the 50th anniversary of the football team. Joanne Filkins, in charge, said that the act is being arranged to tell the story of each fifth year since its founding.

"Husky Heaven" is the theme for homecoming dance. Larry Elliott's band is to play for the affair. Cost of the tickets is $1 per couple, or $1 per person, if not accompanied by a companion of the opposite sex.

A route for the homecoming parade has been announced by Charles Everhardt, co-chairman in charge.

The parade will form at Stewart hall, proceed west on Seventh street south to Tech High school, proceed to St. Germain street, go east on St. Germain to Fourth avenue, where it will break up.

Starting time has been set for 10 a.m. Saturday.

-Notice-

The deadline for all material to be submitted to NUANCE, the campus literary magazine, is Thursday. Manuscripts must be turned in to Cliff Davidson, NUANCE editor, P.O. 278, in order to be considered for the December issue.

Minneapolis Symphonette To Appear Here Tonight

The Minneapolis Symphonette will present a concert to the college tonight at 8:15 p.m. in the Stewart hall auditorium. The group is composed of nineteen members of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra under the leadership of Peter Lisowsky.

Mr. Lisowsky has been with the Minneapolis symphony for almost thirty years, and has played under all the directors. In recent years he has turned his talents to conducting in this country and abroad. The group returned to Minneapolis the earlier part of October to begin rehearsal for the first tour of the symphonette.

Opening the program with the Overture to "The Merry Wives of Windsor" by Nicolai, the Symphonette will give the audience the opportunity to compare today's musical comedy scores with what was a smash hit over one hundred years ago.

One complete symphony will be played, the Mozart "Jupiter." Written in the year that Mozart composed his three symphonies, it has been a favorite for almost three hundred years with laymen and musicians alike.

For those who like their music in a lighter vein and written by modern composers, the orchestra will play Lecunas "Malauguena." This popular Spanish dance is frequently heard today in many different arrangements, including a popular ballad.

The Minneapolis Symphonette will appear here tonight to present a concert as part of the regularly scheduled convocations.

Homecoming Weekend Set; Participation Urged

This weekend is homecoming, when the Huskies will meet the Beavers from Bemidji in a tussle here next Saturday. Of course the game is only a small part of the large variety of activities planned for the occasion, and the whole affair will be enough to keep all the students occupied.

But on the same weekend as homecoming is the Central Minnesota Education association meeting on the campus. This means that there will be no classes on Thursday and Friday. We hope that all students will stay in town for all of the homecoming weekend. If everyone cooperates in this matter, then we will have an opportunity to have a better homecoming than we have ever had.

The Huskies need the support of the student body if we are to expect our team to go all the way. The Huskies need the support of the students when they go out to dam the Beavers.

At this point we may raise the point, "For whom is homecoming?" Homecoming is for the students—it is a time when they may have fun. It is a time when the most important football game of the year is played. And then the homecoming dance is one of the dances of the year.

Homecoming is also for the alumni. Those who have graduated from the college traditionally return to their alma mater at this time every year.

For a better homecoming, stick around this weekend. We can all help "hunt the Beavers with Huskie retrievers."

Psychology Class Desires Satisfaction

One of Dr. Evans Anderson's psychology 122 classes came up with a wide range of opinions on the things that satisfied them most. Maybe you will recognize some of them as your own.

Ranking high on this list was the want of security in all forums. Some expressed this want in an eagerness for an abundance of friends, to know that they "belonged." Others felt security could be had in a reserve of money or in new clothes, and still others placed family and companionship under this category.

Of frequent mention was the desire of accomplishment. This feeling came to most students when they helped others or obtained good grades in school.

"Wish I hadn't had that extra cup of coffee."

Monumental History Follows U.S. Development as 'Top Nation'

by G. A. Rathskellar

Editor's Note: The following article, originally entitled "The Most Monumental Short History of America," is printed here with the permission of the author.

History began in 1776, which was the cause of the signing of the Declaration of Independence and the founding of the U.S. of A. This most monumental event was a Good Thing, because it was the cause of the U.S. of A. becoming a top nation.

Because in that most monumental year of 1776, the British still occupied a few parts of the U.S. of A., there was a fight and the Redcoats, who were Whigs, were kicked out of the country. Then the states began trying to live together under the Articles of Confederation.

The Articles of Confederation were a Bad Thing because they caused the states to fight among themselves, thus causing a need for the Bill of Rights. Then the Constitution was discovered, and this was really a Good Thing because it made it possible for George Washington to become First President.

Washington was a Good President, but after two terms in office he felt he had enough of it all. This established a precedent that was not busted until Franklin Delano Roosevelt decided that a third term would be a Good Thing after all, and broke the precedent. This was of monumental importance because it proved that F.D.R. was the only person able to stand more than eight years in the White House. It was decided that this was a Good Thing at one of the recent National Conventions in Chicago (not the other one).

Then there was the Great Depression, which everyone agreed was a Bad Thing because it caused discovery of the National Debt, commonly known as the New Deal. This was the reason for much controversy because the Republicans were blamed for the Depression and the Democrats were blamed for the Debt. In order to dispell this latter no-

Riverview Teacher Gives Her Opinion

A student teacher was interviewed as to her reaction after having spent three weeks at Riverview Laboratory school.

She stated that being this was her first experience at this type of thing, she was naturally a little nervous. The students somehow managed to build up her confidence.

She also stated that all the students have different personalities and abilities and that by doing student teaching, you recall what you at one time had learned. All together, she said, it is a wonderful experience to be practicing a job that upon graduation you will be doing for a lifetime.

Latest J. B. Matthews Article Levels Attack on Medic Group

By Cliff Davidson

More fuel has been poured on the fire of the Communist scare by J. B. Matthews' most recent article, in the October issue of American Mercury magazine. This article attacks the American medical profession as being infiltrated by Communists.

Matthews, who was for a time chief investigator for Senator Joseph McCarthy's Un-American Activities committee, wrote in an earlier issue of the American Mercury: "The largest single group supporting the Communist apparatus in the United States today is composed of Protestant clergymen."

In his article, entitled "Moscow's Medicine Men," Matthews is not afraid to quote sources such as the Daily Worker and Earl Browder, one-time general secretary of the U.S. Communist party, to "prove" his points.

When he cannot find some authority to substantiate his pre-conceived ideas, he then makes judgments of his own. For instance, he refers to the Physicians Forum as "an organization of doctors which hews to the Communist Party line." Of this statement he offers no proof whatsoever.

And, what is more vicious, he names a number of men in the medical profession who have been connected with organizations he thinks are following the Communist line. This is the idea of guilt by association. If a person has belonged to an organization Matthews thinks is Un-American, then it is inferred that he is a Communist party member. Certainly this is not a valid criterion of a person's loyalty to our country.

The Matthews article on the medical profession is, like his article on the Protestant clergy, a superficial "study" in which he cleverly twists facts and words. Words is characterized also as Senator McCarthy, Representative Velde and other extreme rightists. They utilize all the techniques of propaganda at their disposal, and then when they are criticized they indignantly denounce their critics.

It is obvious that they dogmatically hold to ideas which they held previous to the "investigations" they conduct to substantiate their ideas.

What are these sensational and irresponsible attacks and smearings doing to the United States? They are making this country a land in which it is not popular to hold views which are not orthodox.

People are beginning to be afraid that any unorthodox ideas they hold may be placed under attack by the McCarthyists in and out of Congress. The charge which Matthews throws at the medical profession is an attempt to spread the hysterical fear of Communism that is far too prevalent today among Americans. It is leveling a charge at the doctors of the country, a charge entirely unwarranted by the facts presented in the article.

Communism cannot be hindered by this type of attack. In fact, it is just what the Communist theory thrives on. Communism and other type of totalitarianisms live off suppression.

Finally, we should note that his colleagues in congress are not at all similar to the ideals set forward in the United States Constitution and the Bill of Rights. The Bill of Rights guarantees the right of each individual to think for himself, without fear of punishment for his beliefs.

The Matthews article is a step further into the smog—the atmosphere of intimidation—which bothers us so much today. No one wants to be mentioned in such an article as this one, and apparently one's name can be included in such an article without any evidence to prove disbelief in the most fundamental American ideals.

Got to thinking in the line of self-appraisal the other night. I finally decided, along with some help from some 'friends,' that I'm not much good for anything. But then, I have one last resort. I can always go into politics.

In the line of politics (and believe me all it is, is one big line), there was a little Southern town having a city election last summer. The dog catcher ran for that office, and won, with the slogan, "BE KING TO DUMB ANIMALS!"

Now for that all important coming event! Next week, will be the grand re-opening of the Bucket. WHIEEEEEEE.

The Republicans were worried about the size of the National Debt and made campaign promises to cut down the size of it, but because they also said they would reduce taxes nobody believed them, which the Republicans thought was a Bad Thing.

However, the War was of monumental importance, and hence a Good Thing, because it was the cause of General Motors, General Electric, General MacArthur and General Eisenhower. It was also a Good Thing (for the Republicans) because of the discovery of the phrase, "The mess in Washington."

Of course this was a Good Thing because it made it possible for President Eisenhower to get elected so he could spend more of his time playing golf.

Test I
1. Write everything you can remember about American History.
2. Make note of three things that you cannot remember concerning American history.

(Note: Do not use more than one sheet of paper.)

Yours truly has been taking a kind of unofficial poll to see just how many people are going to be around for our homecoming activities this coming week-end. Here are the results:

Brainard hall—7, Shoe hall—14, and the others combined—29. From these unofficial figures (my gosh I hope they are unofficial) it doesn't look too good for this big event of the school year. Let's see if we can't stick around a little bit for at least some of the entertainment.

All the folks on committees have really been doing a pretty wonderful job in lining the whole thing up, so let's back them up, as well as our team. As if you didn't know, we've got quite a ball team this season. Let's get out and support them.

Say, those scientists have really come up with a truly magnificent discovery this time. They have decided that an egg is one of nature's most perfect figures, to be admired by all, a truly great engineering feat. In fact, they say an egg is the most perfect figure. I'm just wondering what Joe DiMaggio has to say about that.

Former Queen Says 'Thanks'

I would like to express my thanks and appreciation to the organizations (Al Sirat fraternity, Brainard hall, Judy hall, and Carrol hall) which sponsored me as a candidate for homecoming queen of 1952.

Representing St. Cloud Teachers college to "Mr." Eisenhower as well as at other homecoming festivities was a thrilling and wonderful experience. It was a time I shall never forget.

STUDENT ADVISER Norb Lindskog

FACULTY ADVISER Mr. William Donnelly

... Miscellany ...

By Audrey Ekdahl

I was wracking my brain for a way to begin this epistle, when suddenly, an individual I saw on the train this past weekend came to mind. He was in a rosy glow and wished to impart the same good cheer to all the passengers. But instead of entertaining them, he was annoying them inordinately, so one elderly gentleman said to him, "Look, why don't I tuck you in so you (and everyone else) can get a nice rest."

The inebriated one was very cooperative and allowed himself to be quieted down. As soon as the other gentleman had returned to his seat, our "hero" popped out of his chair and said, "You were so nish to me that now I'm going to do the same thing for you!" All that work for nothing ! ! !

The eternal non-sequitur: "I could eat more if I'd keep my mouth shut."

Another brilliant example of the same thing occurred several years ago when a girl, out for dinner, called her roommate back at the dorm. Suddenly it dawned, "You know, this is the first time I've heard your voice over the phone." Came the rejoinder, "Come to think of it, it's the first time I've heard your voice over the phone."

One of my jokes (just one?) thudded dully last week because I left out part of the punch line. It was the one about terracing the roof—then it could be used for outside reading. Reminds me of the time I told about losing my pet corn borer. It's a very sad tale with a happy ending; I thought he was gone forever, but one day while I was eating a cob of corn, out bored Motor! I waited for the laugh, then realized I'd forgotten to say that the borer's name was Motor. Oh, well.

That was a disconcerting experience. She had been visiting a family one evening and as she was leaving, she said, "Thank you for a lovely time," turned, walked into the hall closet and closed the door. It will take her a long time to recover from that one.

I want to tell a boy-type story here; may I? There was once a hipster who thought he had arrived, but he looked more like he'd been sent for and couldn't come.

I was worried yesterday. I thought T.C. was becoming communistic because I heard someone shouting, "Down with the bosses." So I asked, "What bosses?" The answer was simply, "The Greyhound bosses."

Heard a rumor that one of the off campus girls attempted to bake biscuits. The biscuits apparently weren't an unmitigated success because the girl said sadly, "A bun is the lowest form of wheat."

Grad Announcements Go On Sale Today

Graduation announcements will be on sale at the book store starting today through Friday, October 23. Price will be 14 cents per announcement, a raise of two cents over last year's prices.

This year the announcements feature an etching of Stewart hall on the outside cover. The etching was done by a professional artist. Mary Alice Ralor and Joan Rieder. Deleted the announcements on behalf of the class, and Josten's of Owatonna is printing them.

Holmgren Speaks at Education Meeting

Dr. Marvin H. Holmgren, director of Graduate Study, spoke at the fall meeting of the West Central Education Association on Wednesday evening, October 7, at Morris, Minnesota. Dr. Holmgren informed the group of approximately 150 members of the nature of our five-year graduate studies program here at St. Cloud Teachers college.

Riverview Student Offers New Approach

It seems that now days you don't have to bring an apple to impress your teacher. The laughing-est little boy in the third grade at Riverview has devised a new method. After having a student teacher for two weeks, his guilty conscience began to bother so he meekly went up to the teacher and said, "I'm a sweet, innocent little angel."

Men's Chorus Has Opening for Singers

There are still openings for singers in the Men's chorus. These singers need not be of artist quality, but rather anyone who likes to sing is welcome.

The chorus, which is directed by Miss Myrl Carlsen, meets every Tuesday and Thursday at 3 p.m. College credit is given for membership in this organization.

Student Performs for Elementary Schools

Joan Rieder, music student at St. Cloud Teachers college visited the city's elementary schools and played several selections on her violin. The program was arranged in an effort to build up a string program in the elementary school program in the elementary schools.

The entire program is under the direction of Miss Lois Strand, city music supervisor and graduate of St. Cloud.

Band Plays at Moorhead

by Donna Goehring

Here's a new twist . . . join the band and see the world—or at least part of the state.

Saturday noon the band left for Moorhead in two chartered buses and followed a route angling through Staples to pick up a couple additional band members. After a brief stopover for refreshments they arrived on the Moorhead State Teachers college campus around 5 a.m.

Free time before supper found the band members touring the Moorhead campus, looking up friends in the dorms, and in general—getting acquainted. A few more fortunate members who acquired transportation managed to get uptown. Moorhead city buses were on strike and the campus is more than a little hike from the shopping district.

Uptown there was a raffle for a beautiful red Pontiac hard-top with black upholstery. Two girls signed some chances for the car and are anxiously awaiting its presentation.

The game was really the best . . . and the band was the most (frozen bunch of individuals on the bleachers). The cold weather didn't seem to stop the team though nor bother the band. They kept warm by yelling, along with a few loyal St. Cloud students who drove the 170 miles or so for one of the best games of the season.

From 'Old Main' To New Kiehle

The first notice of the existence of a library at the St. Cloud State Normal school appeared in the report of the visiting committee of 1873, three years after the opening of the school. Again in 1874, the need of a professional library was noted by the State Normal board in a statement to the Governor.

Succeeding Presidents noted that the library was not keeping pace with the needs of the school. In a report in 1880, President David L. Kiehle said, "The school is suffering in the need of a library—I consider it therefore an imperative duty in the interest of the school to call attention to this condition of things and to urge a liberal appropriation for the supply of its necessities." In 1882, 1004 books, 267 pamphlets and 29 periodicals made up the library, but by 1884 these figures were doubled.

Space for the library was just as difficult to acquire as books. It was once planned to make the top floor of "Old Main" into a space for the library and museum. This plan did not materialize and the library books were shelved in the recitation room along with the textbook library.

In 1885, the school catalog notes with pride that a "Reading Room" was fitted up by the Students Literary Society with a new carpet and chandeliers.

In 1901, the legislature made a definite appropriation for the library and in 1905 the books were moved to Room Q in "Old Main." Then, upon the completion of Riverview in 1913, the library was moved to the second floor of the old Model school, now known as the old library.

Miss Grannis recalls the years spent there with music students practicing overhead and the cafeteria below as anything but the most ideal study conditions. The reading room proper held approximately 50 students and when it was filled to capacity a sign was hung on the door preventing further entrance.

The juvenile library is still located in the old library under the librarianship of Mrs. Sue Moss. Riverview students have their favorite books on display this week.

Finally under the presidency of Dr. John W. Headley, the legislatures of 1947 and 1949 appropriated $775,000 for the new library building. We now have room for readers and an outstanding collection of books.

Faculty Members Switch Offices

If you poke your nose into room 110, you will find filing cabinets pushed aside, bricks strewn across the floor, plaster being poured, and a rather dusty interior. However, this musty set-up will not prevail for long and is part of a reassignment of offices in Stewart Hall.

Room 110, under the new arrangement, will be shared by Mrs. Scharf, Dean of Women; Mr. Weismann, Dean of Men; Mr. Zumbach, Director of Student Personnel; and Mr. Emery, Director of the Placement Bureau.

When students who are teaching in off-campus assignments wish to locate their supervisors, they will find them in Room 205. These supervisors include Mr. Roy Edelfelt, Dr. Wm. J. Cotton, Dr. Floyd Perry, and Mr. Fred Menninga.

Room 112-C will be occupied by Mr. Hans Berg, Dr. Evans Anderson, and Dr. Frank Slobetz. Dr. Marvin Holmgren will occupy the Registrar's office.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test!

"Go bury your head in the sand," shrieked Sheedy's chick. You'll never put a wing on my finger until you start using Wildroot Cream-Oil on that messy hair. It's America's favorite hair tonic. Keeps hair combed without any trace of greasiness. Removes goose, ugly dandruff. Relieves annoying dryness. Helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test." Paul looked so good the very fuzz time he used Wildroot Cream-Oil, his pigeon egged him on until he proposed. So why don't you buy a bottle or tube today at any toilet goods counter. And necks time you have a haircut, ask for Wildroot Cream-Oil on your hair. Then no gal will ever give you the bird.

Brand-new national survey shows college students prefer Luckies

Last year a survey was made in leading colleges throughout the country which showed that smokers in those colleges preferred Luckies to any other cigarette. This year another nation-wide survey was made—a representative survey of all students in regular colleges coast to coast. Based on thousands of actual student interviews—this survey shows that, as last year, Luckies lead again—lead over all other brands, regular or king-size—and by a wide margin! The reason: Luckies taste better.

Huskies Play Bemidji In Homecoming Tilt

Introducing the Huskies

Here is a comprehensive review of the St. Cloud football team.

First, the backfield. The quarterback spot is being manned currently by Bob Borgert, a senior from St. Cloud. His understudy is Jim Haben, a freshman from Little Falls.

Borgert copped the all-conference honorable mention team last year as he led the Huskies to a conference tie with Mankato and Moorhead.

The left halfback position is held by all-conference junior Don Cash from Little Falls. Jerry Reichel, a senior from Minneapolis, holds down the other halfback spot.

At fullback is Roy Grove, a transplanted halfback from last year's eleven. He is a sophomore from Litchfield. He also made the all-conference team last year.

Utility back Don Hill, a senior from Sauk Rapids, can play any position with equal proficiency. Coach Luymes has singled Hill out for his splendid attitude, and he also pointed him out as being the number one backfield substitute.

Now come the linemen. The ends who have been fighting for a first string position are Tom Janetka, a freshman from Montgomery, Ollie Czech, a junior from Holdingford, Bruce Melnich, a sophomore from Crosby and Clarence Hunt, a freshman from St. Paul.

All-conference Paul Petersen and Moose Anderson are the present starting tackles. Other contenders for these positions are Tom Smith from Excelsior and Jerry Harrington from Robbinsdale.

Coach Erickson's Beavers Lack Experience, Have Size

Size and power sum up St. Cloud's homecoming foe, the Bemidji Beavers. This is the information given by Coach Eddie Colletti, who observed the Bemidji-Winona contest.

He also made the following observations. Coach Jolly Erickson's club has a lot of youngsters, and are in need of experience. Against Winona, they made a lot of mistakes which they wouldn't have made with a few more games under their belts.

Standouts include All-Conference end Sherm Oftendahl, end Sheldon Caswell, and a halfback named Hendrickson. "Against Winona, Hendrickson got off for two fifty eight yard runs, one for a touchdown," Colletti remarked.

Quarterbacking the club is Dick LaPage, a transfer student from the University of Minnesota. He made the All-State high school eleven two years ago as he led Bemidji High to an undefeated season.

Bemidji runs out of the unbalanced "T" and single wing formations. They seem to lack speed, and their offense is keyed mainly on their weight and power.

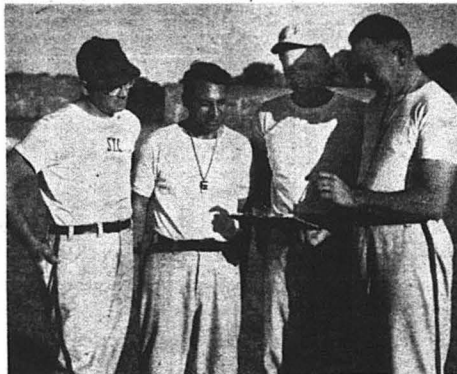

Last year, the Huskies' homecoming foe was the Moorhead Dragons, and Coach Luymes' club went down to a 13-12 defeat. This year's foe doesn't impose as great a threat as Moorhead did last year, but the Bemidji club proved that they could win when they defeated Moorhead 13-6.

After the Bemidji contest, the Huskies have two scheduled games left.

On October 24, they will meet probably their stiffest opponent in the Winona Warriors down at Winona. So far this season, Winona has surprised all the other teachers colleges by winning most of the games on their schedule. Last year, they failed to win a conference game.

Stout Institute provides the final Huskie opponent here at Selke Field the following week.

Coaches Plot Strategy

Huskies Jolt 'Kato 25-14, Score Four in First Half

By Lloyd Olson

The St. Cloud Huskies continued their string of victories by defeating the Mankato Indians 25-14 last Saturday night.

The Huskies now hold undisputed possession of first place in the State Teachers College conference. Their win over Mankato, and the 19-0 defeat Moorhead handed Winona made this possible.

St. Cloud scored twice in the first period and twice in the second and held a 25-7 lead at the half. The second half saw the situation change and an Indian rally almost upset the game.

St. Cloud took the opening kickoff and Don Cash ran the ball from the 15 yard line all the way for a touchdown. However, he was called back to the Mankato 31 where he had stepped out of bounds.

Three plays later, from the 26, Bob Borgert threw a jump-pass to Oliver Czech on the 10 yard line. Czech completed the run for a touchdown and St. Cloud led 6-0 after four minutes of play.

Mankato was forced to punt after their series of plays and the Huskies took over on their own 20. They then pushed to the Indians' 25-yard line where Bob Borgert threw his second touchdown pass in two tries. This one went to the three where Jerry Reichel took it and stepped over. Mel Fisher made it 13-0.

To open the second quarter St.

Cloud marched to Mankato's 7-yard line. The Indian defense tightened and held. They failed to get the ball out of their own territory, however.

The Indians, on their own 12, faked a kick and threw a pass which was intercepted by Roy Grove on the 15. The "Babe" scampered all the way for the third Huskie tally. This made the score 19-0.

On the first play following the kickoff Mankato fumbled and Virg Deering recovered on the Indians' 41. The next play saw a beautiful pass from Jim Haben to Roy Grove for a touchdown called back because of a Huskie offside.

However, this did not hurt St. Cloud because on the next play Haben again threw a pass. This time to Tom Janetka on the 10-yard line. On the following play, Grove crashed off tackle for the touchdown that made the score 25-0.

Mankato's first touchdown came on the following kickoff. The Indians received the ball on the 15 and ran up the side-line to the Huskies 40. On the 40 a fumble was picked up and run to the 30 where a lateral was good for the touchdown. St. Cloud had not been scored on until then. The score at the half was 25-7.

Mankato's second score came early in the third period after a 41. They then marched to the 14 yard line. There, with fourth down and 8 yards to go, Manny Beckman scampered for the second Mankato score.

The Indians threatened again early in the fourth period. They had the ball on the Huskies' 3-yard line with first down but were pushed back to the 11. Then a bad pass from center placed the ball on the 35.

Huskie Coaches Show Versatile Past

Those who are new to our school and maybe a few others of us might be wondering about the coaching staff here at St. Cloud. A word or so about each coach would enlighten quite a few of us.

The newest member of the staff is Mr. Glen Gerdes. Mr. Gerdes graduated from Iowa Teachers College and received his B. A. degree from the University of Iowa. He will coach track, wrestling and assist in football here at St. Cloud. He is also a trainer.

Mr. Gerdes coached one year at the high school in Vermont, III. He spent six years at Fairbault High school before coming here. The Fairbault track and wrestling teams have held many championships, both conference and state, under his guidance. He is a welcomed addition to the Huskie coaching staff.

Mr. Les Luymes has been a coach at St. Cloud since 1950. This is his fourth year as football coach and third year as football coach. He graduated from Central College in Pella, Iowa, and received his M. A. degree from Iowa State University.

He coached at the high school at Colo, Iowa and the Northwest Jr. College in Orange City, Iowa before coming to St. Cloud. The teams at Colo and Northwest J. C. held championships under his leadership. So far at St. Cloud he has coached two championship football teams in two years. His basketball teams have won 43 and lost 23 in his three years here.

Mr. John Kasper, head baseball coach, and coach of freshman basketball, has been here at St. Cloud since 1949. Mr. Kasper graduated from the University of Wisconsin and received his M. A. there. He taught two years in Ohio university before coming to St. Cloud.

Mr. Kasper's baseball teams have held third place one year, and second place three years in the Bi-State conference. This conference includes three Wisconsin teams. Winona has held the top spot all four years. Last year the freshman squad lost but two of 14 basketball games.

Mr. Ed Colletti has been at St. Cloud the longest of all the coaches. He is a graduate of St. Cloud State Teachers college and received his M. Ed. from the University of Minnesota. He also attended the school of coaching at Northwestern university.

He taught high school at St. Cloud Cathedral before coming to St. Cloud in 1932. He taught from 1932-44, and after a brief absence came back again in 1946 and has been here since. Mr. Colletti serves as assistant football coach and as head of the Intramural activities at St. Cloud.

Senior Huskies

At Tackle, Paul Petersen!

As the Chronicle spotlight sweeps through the ranks of the senior athletes, it is difficult to bypass the 6' 2" frame of Paul Petersen, who labors at tackle for the grid Huskies.

Petersen faces the first season of one platoon football with a solid background in both offense and defense. As a freshman, Paul performed on the defense, but with added weight he moved to offense in the ensuing years.

With the coming of the current campaign, 'Pete' is striving for his third monogram as a gridiron warrior. He has held a starting berth for the past two seasons, and was named second string tackle on the 1952 all conference team.

Perhaps Petersen's greatest claim to athletic fame lies in his achievements as a member of the Husky track squad. He already holds three letters in the hurdles and high jump and figures to be a key man for the '54 thincads.

One of the highlights of Paul's track career came in 1951 when he captured the conference high hurdle crown.

The 22 year old phy-ed major must also be numbered among the Huskies who have been "chained," since he married the former Mary Louise Aulst last March 21.

Mary Lou, a sophomore, is a provisional elementary major. The pair make their home in a house trailer on Selke Field.

Petersen amassed eight prep

Paul Petersen

letters between the Davenport, Iowa, and Braham high schools. A breakdown of the list includes four track awards and two each in football and basketball.

Like most of his teammates, "Pete" is planning a future in coaching, but not until he has completed another year of schooling for his masters degree.

A part time job in the cafeteria accounts for Paul's reply to the usual pet peeve query, "People who don't bus their dishes."

W.A.A. Begins Sports, Activities

It seems that it just takes some people a little longer than others to get rolling and I am one of them. At any rate, a welcome back to all old students and even a bigger welcome to the new ones. It is hoped that everyone will enjoy this bit of info that is given on girls' sports every week.

First off on the IM program. Soccer is the sport that is being played right now. There are two leagues set up, Monday-Wednesday and Tuesday-Thursday. Jane Arendt and Skid Skalkbe are the girls heading this sport.

They have reported that the Monday-Wednesday league could use a few more people, so, if some of you girls are idle on these nights let's see you out on J. C. Brown field. Of course you are welcome any night. How about it?

Tonight at 7 p.m. the W.A.A. is having their first meeting at Eastman Hall in room 1. The president, Dorothy Greisert, is hoping that all members will be out for this meeting. How about it W.A.A. members—will you be there tonight? Remember, W.A.A. meets the first and third Tuesdays of the month.

There is a meeting of the Aquatic club at 7 p.m. Wednesday evening. The Aquatic club meets on the first and third Wednesdays and on the others there will be open swimming. This is open to all students from 7-8:30 p.m.

On Sports.....

By Stu McCoy

Say, those Spartans really have a football team, haven't they? I never saw a team with so much speed as Michigan State showed last Saturday against the Gophers.

Although the play of the Maroon and Gold was excellent, the play of State was just too great. The scoreless first half was not only attributed to the stout Minnesota defense, but to a large extent the inability of the Spartan linemen to stay out of the way of those speedy State backs.

More than once State backs had to push offensive lineman out of the way, and several times were actually stopped by their own men.

That LeRoy Bolden is surely a hard man to stop. He's fast and deceptive and just plain terrific. Come to think of it, Michigan State put in at least three complete backfields that were just as fast and aggressive as the other.

Captain Don Dohoney at an end really did shine on both offense and defense. He should make someone's All-American team this year. Although defensively weak at spots, Ohio State looked good in defeating a good California team 33-19. Their offensive gun was virtually unknown halfback Bob Watkins who scored four touchdowns. He'll make a lot of All-American teams if he keeps that up.

In comparing Michigan State with Ohio State, I would rate the Spartans as a touchdown better because of a slightly superior defense, and a shade more offensive speed.

Iowa seems to be surprising everyone, and so is Michigan. Sounds like trouble for some Big Ten teams, and to some sports scribes who underestimated them in preseason forecasts.

Baseball, World Series Style

What a proud moment that must have been for Carl Erskine after that wonderful pitching performance he gave last Friday. After Campanella belted that round tripper, the Dodgers had something to yell about.

Erskine's 14 strikeouts set a new record in that department, and probably won't be equalled for many a year. Mickey Mantle and Joe Collins will probably remember Erskine's performance for as long as anyone can recall the series itself.

It's been good to see Big Gil Hodges pound that ball the way he has. A goat in last year's series, he's been one of the heroes in this year's classic.

Baltimore in Big Time

Well, Baltimore finally made the big leagues. Maybe this is just the thing the Browns have needed to build up their moral and confidence.

At last they're assured of a larger home attendance than in the past few years. The St. Louis fans, for the most part, were Cardinal Rooters, while the rest stayed home.

Next Best Thing

St. Cloud may not have LeRoy Bolden, but they have what amounts to the next best thing. I'm speaking, of course, about Don Cash from Little Falls.

He's fast and shifty, and can cut back beautifully. He's been one of the main sparks in the Huskie attack this year.

Other players who have performed well have been Mel Fisher, Tom Smith, Bob Borgert, and Roy Grove.

NOTICE

The sports department expresses apologies to Glen Gerdes. In last week's issue of the Chronicle, it was reported that he was "just a line coach."

This was a mistake. He is officially an athletic trainer, and will coach track and wrestling. Besides these duties, he has helped out the grid squad by coaching the line.

We hope this notice will clear up this mixup.

More old business in the form of reports were brought up by Don Hill and Bob Bergert. Bob reporting on the towed situation in Eastman hall, he had found no solution so Dave asked him to follow up his work with some of the suggestions offered. Lyle Schmidt seconded and the motion carried. Dave then asked Don Hill to follow up his work on this problem.

Don Hartnell appeared in behalf of Orchestra, a modern dance club for men and women, to get the council to accept them as a new organization on campus. Don presented their constitution to the council to look over and vote on at the next meeting.

Lyle Schmidt moved that Dave appoint a committee to help curb smoking outside the second floor lounge. John Ryan seconded. Jerry Carlson amended the motion stating that the same committee could check on the cigarette and trash problem in front of Stewart hall. Lyle Schmidt seconded the amendment, and the amendment and motion carried.

John Ryan moved the Student Council use the convocation date of October 20 for matters of business that they see fit. Bob Bergert seconded and the motion carried.

Lyle Schmidt moved the Student Council meet on the second and fourth Monday of the month thus calling for a meeting next Monday, October 12. Don Hill seconded and the motion carried.

Lyle Schmidt moved we adjourn. Jerry Carlson seconded, and the meeting adjourned at 9:10 p.m. Respectfully submitted, Peter Peterson, secretary

Library Displays Life of Dr. Kiehle

On display in the lobby of the new library are photographs, pamphlets, and other historical information concerned with the life of the late David L. Kiehle. Dr. Kiehle was the college's second president and the man for whom the library has been named.

Of particular interest are his diplomas and his fraternity key, as well as several books he has sponsored. There is also a penny which he presented to Mrs. H. C. Bowling, long time resident of St. Cloud, when she was just three years old.

The History of Education, under Kiehle's authorship, is one of the books featured. The October 6, 1944, issue of The Chronicle appears with a feature article on all of the presidents serving our college since its founding in 1869.
