Its Trotters vs. Cotton-Pickers

"Oh here we are the gang and all" sang the Lambda Trotters and the Cotton Pickers in unison after a hard fought basketball game held in Eastman hall as part of last week's convo.

Throng of students crowded from the "sweaty classrooms" to the "sweaty gymnasium" to see the convocation staged by Lambda Chi Beta fraternity.

The audience was favored with the music of "Toby and his nose-pickers" led by frat member Lloyd Olson. The three-piece marching outfit turned in a fancy exhibition as part of the half-time ceremonies. Maestro Olson proved his ability at "plunger twirling" (Ed. Note: Rumors are that Lloyd will go to the state contest to display his talents).

The two teams were evenly matched in the contest. The Lambda Trotters, aptly led by Coach Al "Les" Smedstad trounced the Cotton Pickers after a brief quarter rally. The boys attributed the win to the sexy appeal of their janky cheerleader Jerry "Zsa Zsa" Carlson.

Larry "Ava" Gates and Tom "Jane Russell" Kelly led the losing team in some lively cheers. The janitor, Bubs Krumrei, was favorably impressed by the "girls" and aided them in their cheering.

It's rumored that the Trotters played Karen Haugen, sweetheart of Lambda Chi, to make an entrance during an important play on the part of the Pickers. The boys were rather shook up for a time.

The strategy almost back-fired, however, as Big Gene Hansen of the Trotters followed Karen off the floor. Because of his love of basketball, he was encouraged to return and forget about women.

Referees John Houtz and Don Cash are reported to have pronounced the game as cleanly played. They did admit that they had a little trouble with Jack "Goose" Nispor, who insisted upon arguing with their decisions.

Dick "Rollie Johnson" Frie successfully announced the game and the other intervening events.

"Just forget about tenure for awhile—it comes as a result of being a good teacher."

...Miscellany...

By Jeanne Zanka

I can't disappoint my readers by not having a comeback for "some members of Lambda Chi." However, having found out the author of that letter to the editor, I'll relax a bit because I respect his opinion. As far as I'm concerned we have separated the men from the boys in those rapid-fire exchanges. There are no hard feelings between the author and myself. As far as both frats as groups are concerned, I'm not so sure. Anyhow, a parting word to that author, "Women's faults are many. Men have only two—everything they say and everything they do." (It's all in fun fellas).

It seems that Ranger Jean Zevnick has done just about everything in her life. She spent last week-end on a farm in Fairfax (her first visit to the country). I don't know whether she became "edicated" or not but she found out the country folk can't hold their "booze" like the Rangers can.

You theater lovers can rest for awhile now that the one-act plays are over. In the not too distant future, however, the spring play production will begin. Mr. Raymond Pedersen of the speech department has chosen "The Male Animal" by James Thurber and Elliott Nugent. It's the type of comedy a college audience finds most appealing so don't miss it.

By the way, a special thanks from all the one-act play directors to all the casts for their fine cooperation and spirit during the many weeks of work. We all found a great deal of pleasure in working with you.

We had some more surprise visitors last week. Among those seen by yours truly were Myron Hesse, Gene Blume, Doug Hed and Barney Palmer. Of these, Mr. Hesse seems to have changed the most. He has a heinie haircut now. He informed some of us girls that he was selling his wavy locks according to weight, size and spring of curl. That's just fine only there's one flaw—the supply will never meet the demand.

All of you who are planning on graduating in May are asked to begin thinking about Commencement and Baccalaureate speakers. Bob Borgert, senior class prexy, asked me to pass the word around. Please try to think of some good activities for those last three class-free days in May—we need ideas.

Matmen Conclude Season By Tripping U Farm 27-12

By Don Casey
St. Cloud's Huskie wrestlers closed their 1953-54 campaign last Monday at St. Paul with a sound 27-12 victory over an improved University of Minnesota School of Agriculture squad.
The farm school line-up was much improved over the team which performed here, with the addition of Skalbeck at 123 pounds and the shift of Jerry Robb from heavyweight to 167.
Only one match went the route, a 4-4 tie between the Huskies' Dick Maertz and Duke Wendorf of the farm school in the 177 pound division.
Mel Nygren, who has been wrestling at 177 pounds this season, showed what he could do in his own 157 pound class when he pinned the Aggie's Larkin in 2:45.
The Huskies' regular 157 pound entry, Rog Weihrach, was shoved up to 167 and was pinned by the Aggie ace, Robb. Maertz also moved up a weight and his tie resulted.
Heavyweight Virg Deering won by a forfeit, but he pinned Travis of the farm school in 2:45 of an exhibition match.
Wendy Bearl, 130 pounder and the only senior on the Huskie roster, closed out his collegiate career by pinning the Aggie's Munson in a quick 2:34.
Bearl, two times state high school champ, won 16 of his 17 matches.

The intramural basketball league play came to a close Tuesday night, February 16.
The Vermillion Lakers clinched the American league crown as they downed the River Rats 64 to 51 to run their win string to seven games without a loss.
Pernu supplied the Lakers' punch as he hit for 14.
Brainard Hall won their game with Al Sirat via the forfeit route as led Lambda Chi over the Good Losers.
The Left Overs rolled to an upset victory over the Hubbers 35 to 29.
Hunt copped the scoring honors for the Hubbers with 12. Tarr led the winners with 10.
The Gophers grabbed the National league crown by dropping the Wooden Nickels 79 to 26.
The Gophers were led by Johnson who hit for 17. Dushack led the Wooden Nickels with 14.
The Gophers ended the season undefeated with a 9-0 record.
The Fertile Flatters rolled over the Rambling Wrecks 46 to 36 behind Czech's 25. Majeski hit 21 for the losers.
The Garpers, led by Dillingham's 23, smacked the F and F 57 to 51.
Drimmel provided the F and F with plenty of punch as he hit for 20.
The Rockets smothered the 6-Packers 80 to 34. Fish led all scorers with 27.
The Alchemists fished over the Yanks to the tune of 45 to 32, behind Winkler's 16. Voelk netted 18 for the Yanks.
The Cottonails won their game over the All Scrubs by forfeit.

Frosh Crush U Farm; Rally to Trip Mankato

By Don Casey
Coach John Kasper's frosh basketball squad registered two more wins as they coasted past the University of Minnesota School of Agriculture last Monday, 73-57, and tripped the Mankato freshmen, 72-64, Saturday.
The frosh gained revenge for an earlier defeat at the hands of Mankato with little more than a strong desire to win.
Mankato held a distinct height advantage over the frosh who could offer nothing more than bench strength with only seven men able to make the trip. Jerry Hayenga, who is recovering from illness, Jim Brandt and Tom Kelly all missed the game.
The game was played on fairly even terms, with no team leading by more than five points, until the fourth quarter when the freshmen surged ahead to win by eight points.
Guards Ed Miller and Jim Zakariasen provided the scoring punch for the junior varsity with 21 and 17 points, respectively.

dual matches while wearing the Huskie colors. His only loss was two weeks ago against Carl Laven of Mankato.
The Results:
123 pounds—Skalbeck (SAUM) pinned Ellenwood (SC), 4:50.
130 pounds—Bearl (SC) pinned Munson (SAUM), 2:34.
137 pounds—Krugger (SC) pinned Bottem (SAUM), 5:49.
147 pounds—Reed (SC) pinned Dadds (SAUM), 1:54.
157 pounds—Nygren (SC) pinned Larkin (SAUM), 2:45.
167 pounds—Robb (SAUM) pinned Weihrach (SC), 1:00.
177 pounds—Maertz (SC) and Wendorf (SAUM) tied, 4-4.
Heavyweight—Deering (SC) won by forfeit.

Final Contests Scheduled For Eastman Hall Gym

Eastman hall will be the scene of action this week as the Huskie cage machine comes to a halt after a long 21-game schedule.
Tonight, the St. Olaf Oles will complete their home-and-home series with Coach Luymes' cagers. Bemidji will offer the final conference opposition this Saturday.
In the first encounter with Coach Stan Hall's league-leading Beavers, St. Cloud was soundly trounced 74-53. Since that time Bemidji has assumed command of the Teachers College conference.
There have been two factors that have been mostly responsible for the Beaver success story. Captain Irv St. John at forward and center Red Caswell have been the leading point-getters in the Bemidji attack.
Other players that have contributed to the Bemidji scoring have been forward Sherman Oftedal and guards Benny Trochill and Jim Lepper.
Also on the squad are forwards Don Gelger, Bob Lindberg, Stan

Onness and Charles Bischoff, centers Tim Holt and Bob Neas, and guards Tommy Broekemier, Roland Bromberg, Garry Smith and Ray Spinder.
Bemidji isn't a tall club. Biggest man in the Beaver lineup is reserve center Tim Holt at 6-4. St. John and Caswell, the tallest players in the starting lineup, are 6-3.
St. Olaf will invade Eastman hall tonight. The Oles are members of the Upper Midwest conference.
The forwards will include Johnson, Varland, Miller, Reinertsen and Mikkelsen. Olson, Jessup and Hostager are at centers, and Gustafson, Werdahl, Nelson and Fossum are the guards.

'Kato Jolts Huskie Title Hopes 94-66

By Lloyd Olson
The Huskies were defeated last Saturday night, 94-66, in their game against the Mankato Indians at Mankato.
The loss leaves St. Cloud with no chance for even a part of the championship crown. The two teams now battling it out are Bemidji and Mankato. St. Cloud can still affect the outcome, however, by defeating the Beavers Saturday night.
St. Cloud got off to a quick start with Rog Westlund making the first basket. Kato came right back, but the Huskies held an early 6-3 lead with four minutes gone in the quarter.
Fouls were a big factor in the game. Don Hill and Rog Westlund both left the game with three fouls during the first quarter. This helped the Indians outscore the Huskies 22-6 to hold a 25-12 lead at the first quarter mark.
Bob Will was the big spark for the Indians in the first period, and again in the second. Dave Westlund left the game with three fouls in the second period. The Indians held a 44-30 lead at half time.

Bob Borbert sparked the Huskies in the third quarter which saw both Rog and Dave Westlund foul out of the game. The Indians used this to their advantage as they increased their lead. They led 62-45 at the end of the third quarter.
The fourth quarter belonged entirely to the Indians as Huskie reserves played most of the time. Mike Marion and Dick Frie hit for the Huskies to keep St. Cloud's score from remaining stagnant. The final 94-66 victory was a decisive win for Mankato.
Bob Borgert was high-point man for the Huskies with 15 points. Rog Westlund scored 10 and Mike Marion and Dave Westlund each had 9 for the Huskies.

Pucksters Rip Concordia 8-2
The Huskies overwhelmed Concordia 8 to 2 on the Cobblers' ice Monday, February 15.
The Huskies jumped to a fast 3-to-0 lead as Baxter, Scherk and Tweston hit the nets in the first period.
The Huskie blademens didn't slow down their attack any in the second period as Scherk scored once and Jim Baxter snapped in two more to push the Huskies out ahead to 6.
The final period found Concordia playing the Huskies on even terms. McDonald and Baxter scored for St. Cloud, and were matched by Tausen and Olson of Concordia.
Jim Baxter pulled the hat trick as he scored four goals to lead the Huskies to victory.
This was the Huskies' final contest of the warm-weather season. The pucksters ended the season with two wins and two losses.
They were downed by a strong St. Thomas club and split with St. John's university.

Over 3,500 Participate in Emphasis Week Activities

Editor's note: The following article was written by Miss Della Conrad, Danforth foundation worker, as a conclusion to Religious Emphasis Week which was recently held on campus.

Religious Emphasis Week has ended, but surely religious insight brought by ten outstanding speakers remains in the hearts and minds of many people who heard them. More than 3500 individuals participated in more than 80 events centered around the theme, "Christianity, Life's Masterkey."

Dr. Clarence Sorenson culminated the Religious Emphasis Week activities, 11, with his address, "What Next?" He seasoned his address with urgency for action to alleviate the needs of our brothers around the world. He quoted words of wisdom from Micah, the prophet of old, "He hath shewed thee, O man what is good. And what doth the Lord require of thee, but to be Justly, to Love Mercy, and to Walk Humbly with Thy God."

The six days of activities included breakfasts, worship services, seminars, convocations and assemblies, classroom discussions, dormitory discussions, coffee hours, a retreat and fellowship supper, and a leader's luncheon. In addition to these group activities, personal conferences were held between the speakers and many individuals. Numerous books were purchased from the book display in Stewart hall.

The most popular events proved to be the movie, "Behold His Glory" (if attendance is an indication), and the seminars entitled, "What Is Love?" and "Courtship, Marriage, and Christianity." A number of smaller events provoked considerable discussion, however.

Everyone on the campus had a chance to enjoy the week. Those who did take the advantage had a marvelous opportunity to make their beliefs live and to derive more deeply into their Christian faith. Let's keep it alive.

—Library Notes—

Two services offered at the library for the benefit of the students are the green-card system and the book list.

The former is a system whereby the student fills out a green card for a book which at the time is out or new. It is then clipped to the card in the file and held for the student.

The book list is a compilation of new and revised library books, arranged according to subject and listed with their call numbers.

On the ground floor of the library are several tables on which book displays are arranged. The students have furnished and made up the displays as part of their literature class under the direction of Miss Budde.

Foreign Study Plans Readied for Campus

Programs for sending students abroad and also attracting foreign students to our campus were discussed last Wednesday by a student-faculty committee.

O. J. Jerde and Marjorie Morse of the Social Studies department were in charge of the discussion. They presented information about the two programs to the group and received suggestions of how such plans could be put into operation on this campus.

The group meets again tomorrow at 4 p.m. in the conference room of the president's office.

Large Number Visit Library in January

A report issued by the library shows that 17,145 people visited that building during the month of January.

This figure does not represent separate individuals but rather a total of the number of times people have entered the library.

Included in this number were students and faculty using the library for class-work and outside reading, visitors, off-campus students and friends who transport these students to the library.

AWS Lounge Still Open for Women

The A.W.S. wishes to remind all women that their lounge, "Rest A Wee," is available for use at all times.

The lounge is located in the basement of the old library.

A Lost Art

Spring Weather Means More Puddle Jumping

With the weatherman hinting that spring lurks around some distant corner, one is faced with the age old custom of puddle jumping, or more exactly, the art of not getting one's feet wet. Primarily an athletic maneuver, puddle jumping in recent years has become the national exercise for both men and women. Slippery sidewalks increase the possibility of becoming "defected."

Emphasis upon puddle jumping reached an all time high in the Elizabethan era when Sir Walter Raleigh won the Queen's favor in a display of skillful strategy. The event has been recorded as a royal battle of the elements.

About the only people who like puddles are the rubber industries who are trying to squelch the declining demand for overshoes by advocating bigger and better puddles. Non-supporters of jumping, they favor a return to the uncultured process of wading, thus breeding a race of old soaks.

We sincerely hope you survive the spring and become eligible for an honorary puddler award. This makes you a member of the national brotherhood and entitles you to a free pin inscribed "Every Little Drip Counts."
