Dear Dr. Brainard:

Your letter of November 2 in reply to my inquiry of October 28 has been received. The information that you have supplied concerning your institution will be of valuable assistance to us in making an accurate analysis of the status of the Nation's colleges and universities and of the extent to which they are being utilized for the effective prosecution of the war.

Let me congratulate you upon the splendid record of your institution during these most difficult times and, especially, upon the adjustments that you have made in order that your program might better serve the interests and needs of our Nation at war.

Thank you for your cooperation and prompt response to my request.

Sincerely yours,
